JOHN'S Action Steps

Please discuss the below recommendations with your special education case manager and school counselor.

Get Moving

Post-Secondary Pathway Check Lists

You should consider the post-secondary opportunities that are of interest right now. Remember career plans and interests adjust throughout life.

Prepare For Your Future

Take action! Next steps to prepare you for graduation and beyond are provided below.

Action Steps

You should connect with the school counselor/transition specialist to ensure you are fulfilling all of the requirements for high school graduation and identify any areas where you may need additional support.

Fall (Aug - Nov)

Winter (Dec- Feb)

Ensure you continue to stay on top of the PWCS graduation requirements. Make sure course work, attendance, and self-care are aligned for success during the second part of the year.

Spring (Mar- June)

4 Polish your resume, and to review it with others for additional perspectives and feedback! 5 Fin You sh self-addeterm

Finish the year strong! You should keep up good self-advocacy and selfdetermination skills that you can use after graduation.

Career Connected Learning Action Steps Connect with the school transition specialist to identify opportunities for career classes that are suited to your interests and skills, as well as for potential work-based learning (WBL) and community-based instruction opportunities.

Work with the school transition specialist to learn about potential part-time, summer work, internships and/or job shadowing opportunities. Transition specialists can also recommend fairs or workplace tours that can help you learn

Consider the longer-term

goals and what support you possibilities of interest, and the paths required to reach them.

may need to achieve them.

Map out different career

Attend PWCS Transition Fair. Prepare yourself by reflecting on your career interests, updating your resume, and defining your soundbite that captures you and your future goals. Inquire and research credential and certificate opportunities you can earn while in high school by talking with your teachers and school counselor.

Attend the PWCS summer job fair. Also, internship opportunities are offered for a variety of industries to allow you to get experience. Consider job shadowing a parent/guardian.

Community
College Action
Steps

Every class and year counts; this is on your transcript. Make sure you are challenging yourself in advanced courses in areas of your strength. You could earn college credit by taking those courses and passing the associated exam.

Make sure you are getting involved in a way that is authentic to your interests, values, and passion; consider club, organization, volunteering, sports, or in the arts. The way you spend your time and energy will add context to your story when you apply to college.

Consider attending a PWCS College Fair or college tour, Attend College visits at your school https:// student.naviance.com/colleges/visits. During senior year you will be submitting applications at this point in the year. Make sure you are forming relationships with teachers and counselors for future letters of recommendation.

January is a heavy time for scholarship applications and submitting the Free Application for Federal Aid (FASFA) senior year. Colleges have scholarships that sometimes require direct applications; check naviance for local scholarships posted by PWCS.

5 End the year STRONG!
This is critical! Your final grades will impact your transcript and GPA. GPA is often used for merit scholarship qualifications.
Work with your teachers and mentors for tutoring.

Military Action
Steps

Every career exists in the military with service opportunities through enlistment, academy, ROTC, National Guard, and Reserves. Branches visit all high schools.

The ASVAB is a timed, multiaptitude exam. Scores from this exam can give you insight into careers. Students 16 y/o and older can take the ASVAB. See your school counselor to sign up for the ASVAB testing at your school. Pass the physical exam! Your recruiter will discuss any physical eligibility requirements with you.

You should connect with a service enlistment counselor to identify the right job specialty. Continue maintaining good grades and stay actively involved in extracurricular activities!

The final step is to accept an offer through ROTC, academy appointment, or taking the Oath of Enlistment with a scheduled MEPS and bootcamp date.

Apprenticeship Program Action Steps Become aware of the different careers that offer apprenticeships. Learn more about the apprenticeship planning process online here.

Earn while you learn through an apprenticeship model! Look up registered companies who ofter approved apprenticeship programs where your hours and training will be included as you build your career.

Review the application process and prepare for any relevant apprenticeship exams and interviews!

When appropriate, you should complete the apprenticeship program applications that are due. Many of these, like the IBEW electrical application, are due in March of your senior year.

Finish the school year strong, and maintain good study and work habits. Having a daily routine and personal organization will help you be successful.
